

Client has been in the business of precision springs since 1973. Henceforth, they have become one of the leading precision spring manufacturer in South East Asia. Supplying to Multi-National Companies in their requirements for precision springs and meeting client's expectations.

Their products are widely used in Audio/Video products, Telecommunication Equipments, Computers & Printers, Domestic, Offices equipments, Military equipment components & etc.

Currently, they are looking for suitable Quality Control Engineer.

QC Engineer

Responsibilities:

- Take charge of the non-executives in QC Department
- Coordinate and perform the inspection of incoming materials and first article inspection of supplied parts
- Coordinate and perform the in-process inspections at the shop-floor
- Coordinate and/or participate in the final product acceptance tests
- Maintain project quality records according to the quality management system requirements
- Prepare projects for and/or to participate in supplier print preview, in-house production readiness review, internal and external audits, customer quality liaison meeting and customer audit

Requirements:

- Degree in Mechanical/ Electronics Engineering with 2 to 3 years of quality control related working experience in the manufacturing industries
- Knowledge in Quality Control Process and Quality Management System
- Able to communicate, coach and supervise a team of QC technicians
- Able to work independently and a team player

Location of Work: Johor Bahru, Malaysia

We offer great opportunities for career advancement as well as attractive salary package that commensurate with credentials. Interested candidates are invited to apply online or forward your resume stating your availability of employment, current and expected salary to us at: adrian@collincrawford.com.